

Katharina Krüger.

I make technical things make sense — and make people want to click, scroll, read, buy, stay.

& BUILD IN

/ 01 Hi, I'm Kat.

Marketing brain. CX heart. Operator's hands.

I build digital things that are clear, human, and quietly good at converting — from the first SEO query to the last support reply.

Ten+ years of wearing several hats at once — leadership, CX quality, training, and digital marketing & web design. Throughout my career I've led teams, built processes, and coached people on one track, while running a parallel freelance practice helping small and medium businesses across Ireland with their websites and online presence. Two careers, one instinct: figure out what people need, then build the thing that gives it to them.

I'm at my best when the product is technical but the audience is human — translating warehouse engineering, cognitive health, or game support into words people actually want to read. Bilingual (DE/EN), happy owning a stack end-to-end, equally comfortable leading a remote team or quietly shipping a landing page at 10pm because the deadline is tomorrow.

AUG 2025 —
PRESENTOnline Marketing & E-Commerce Manager

LAGERTEAM GMBH · GERMANY

- Leading the strategic redesign and ongoing build of lager-team.de — UX, page structure, WordPress/Kadence, SEO and conversion-focused content.
- Running digital marketing across SEO, content, local search, Google Business Profile, social, newsletter and lead-gen funnels.
- Writing German B2B copy, case studies, website pages and thought-leadership content for warehouse tech, racking, sustainability and safety — i.e. making industrial topics readable.
- Architecting product, service, city and partner page structures to lift local and national search visibility.
- Producing sales enablement material, presentations and visuals in close collaboration with management, sales and technical planning.

OCT 2024 — AUG
2025Project Manager & Customer Experience Specialist

NEURONATION · REMOTE

- Owned customer-facing content, product communication and support-related projects for NeuroNation and NeuroNation MED in German and English.
- Reworked FAQ and help-centre structures for clarity, consistency and accessibility — fewer tickets, happier users.
- Supported marketing and funnel content for digital health products — including sensitive communication on cognitive training, insurance coverage and onboarding.
- Coordinated input from marketing, product and support so messaging stayed accurate, user-friendly and aligned with what people actually came for.
- Used AI-assisted workflows and prompt engineering to speed up content production and QA — without losing the human voice.

MAR 2019 — OCT
2024Player Experience Team Lead

PLAYRIX · DUBLIN, IRELAND · REMOTE

- Led a global remote customer service team — daily workflows, 1:1s, team check-ins, training and quality improvement work.
- Onboarded and coached team members, monitored performance, and lifted consistency, response quality and customer satisfaction.
- Built and maintained knowledge base content, service processes, macros and internal documentation — the stuff that makes a team scale.
- Analysed support trends, player feedback and recurring issues, and turned them into actionable insights for QA, product and dev.
- Monitored CS-tool bots and automation performance to improve speed, accuracy and the overall player experience.

2018 — 2019

Infrastructure Delivery Project Manager

DELL · LIMERICK, IRELAND

- Managed timely delivery of IT infrastructure services and data centre projects across the DACH region and Europe.
- Coordinated internal and external resources; tracked milestones, risks and deliverables with clear stakeholder reporting.
- Created and maintained project documentation so final deliverables met agreed standards and customer expectations.

Quality Analyst & Trainer

ONE OF THE WORLD'S LARGEST TECH COMPANIES NDA · DUBLIN, IRELAND

- Analysed written and verbal customer interactions to ensure adherence to quality, policy and customer-experience standards.
- Delivered coaching, feedback and action plans to agents across Dublin, Warsaw and Krakow.
- Built training materials and workshops for new and experienced agents; partnered with team leads to close knowledge gaps.

Things I'm proud of

A short, honest list.

01

Designed the website & SEO architecture for Lagerteam — service, product, city and partner pages built to bring in qualified B2B leads.

02

Turned technical warehouse projects into B2B case studies people actually read all the way through.

03

Bilingual FAQ and customer-content overhaul for NeuroNation — cleaner, kinder, more consistent in DE and EN.

04

AI-assisted content workflows and prompt-based QA that speed up production without losing the human voice.

05

Five+ years leading an international remote team across customer service, QA and training — three time zones, one weekly cadence, zero panic.

/ OFF THE CLOCK

Strong, curious, mostly caffeinated.

Outside of work I'm a masters Olympic weightlifter, occasional CrossFitter, and very loud advocate for strong, not skinny. I run a small but mighty sports/fitness Instagram, cook a lot of high-protein nonsense, and parent a wonderful autistic kid — which has made me a better communicator than any training course ever did.
